

Dearest Mariem,

To my moon, mi sol, my sweetest sonrisa

Happy 22nd birthday, my love.

Today, the world turns a little softer,
a little warmer, just because you're here.

You are the quiet melody I never knew my heart needed full of beauty, emotion, and light. 🌙

I know some days feel like rain, where your heart aches in silence and the world feels sharp.
But habibi, I want you to know: with me, you never have to be afraid.

You are safe.

Your thoughts, your fears, your silence all of it is welcome here.

Like the moon holds the ocean, I will hold your heart.

Gently. Patiently. Endlessly. ❤️

You don't have to be loud to be brave.

Your strength is in your softness, your kindness, your quiet hope.

You are a constellation made of little beautiful moments and I am in awe of you.

Happy birthday, my sweetheart.

May this new chapter bring you peace, warmth, and a love that never asks you to be anything but yourself.

Forever yours,

I love you
